

Executive Integrated Medical Management Program

Chulabhorn International College of Medicine, Thammasat University

Health & Wealth Institute: H&W

Chulabhorn international college of medicine, Thammasat University responds to governmental policies that pay attention to the tendency and changed directions about health as well as medicine of Thailand. Under the situation of spreading Covid-19, the college realizes the importance of medical services, silver age, complementary and alternative medicine, other innovations and technologies in healthcare business administration, healthcare logistic, wellness-related business along with wellness tourism. Chulabhorn International College of Medicine sees that the executive administrators in the fields of medicine, dentistry, pharmacy, nursing, sport medicine, as well as those from public and private sectors with interest in medicine business should acquire the knowledge to improve and restore their experiences in order to provide the organization's managers with vision so that they can think critically and acknowledge the globalization. Through connection, they will be ready for changes, leading to the success of their organizations in terms of applying innovation into the medicine business, nursing, and other innovation fields. Organization managers can operate effectively in relation to the social status and ever-changing environment in addition to serving the society. Therefore, Chulabhorn International College of Medicine, Thammasat University, has created this Executive Integrated Medical Management Program.

Principle and Reason

The role of personnel in the fields of health and health development, nursing management, and integrative health development for healthier lifestyle and better quality of life for people in society is important and even more so under the situation of spreading Covid-19. The development of organizations and personnel to understand and keep up-to-date with the changes in the society as well as the ability to appropriately prepare for the changes is crucial. This can be achieved by organizing integrated knowledge management system in addition to the development in various services, proactive health promotion, and better understanding and knowledge of medicine business between administrators from both inside and outside the fields of medicine from the network created through this program.
